

PUBLIC SERVICE,
COMMUNITY, &
HEALTH WORKERS
HAVE A RIGHT TO TAKE POLITICAL ACTION

PUBLIC SERVICE,
COMMUNITY, &
HEALTH WORKERS
HAVE A RIGHT TO
TAKE POLITICAL ACTION

We support your right to be politically active. Your rights are codified in the Public Service Act 2020.

Keep yourself safe by familiarising yourself with and following and your agency's code of conduct.

When expressing personal political views, make sure you avoid:

- identifying yourself with your work, including wearing logos, lanyards or uniforms associated with your work
- giving the impression you're giving the view of your agency when it's your own view
- revealing advice given to Ministers or Councillors that is not public
- disclosing information from your work which is not public
- using your employer's resources, e.g. email, printer, or your work-provided devices to share, like or comment on PSA social media posts
- associating your work with personal posts on social media – including professional networking sites like LinkedIn.

Check out the guidelines from Te Kawa
Mataaho Public Service Commission:
<https://bit.ly/pscguidelines>

We support your right to be politically active. Your rights are codified in the Public Service Act 2020.

Keep yourself safe by familiarising yourself with and following and your agency's code of conduct.

When expressing personal political views, make sure you avoid:

- identifying yourself with your work, including wearing logos, lanyards or uniforms associated with your work
- giving the impression you're giving the view of your agency when it's your own view
- revealing advice given to Ministers or Councillors that is not public
- disclosing information from your work which is not public
- using your employer's resources, e.g. email, printer, or your work-provided devices to share, like or comment on PSA social media posts
- associating your work with personal posts on social media – including professional networking sites like LinkedIn.

Check out the guidelines from Te Kawa
Mataaho Public Service Commission:
<https://bit.ly/pscguidelines>

